

DEAN EITEL

Dean Eitel has spent 40 years in either part-time or full-time teaching public administration and non-profit students in the U.S. and abroad. He received his Ph.D. in Public Policy from the University of Illinois at Chicago, Master of Public Administration (with honors) from Roosevelt University and BS from St. Louis University. He taught in DePaul University's School of Public Service full-time for 12 years and served as the School's Assistant Director and the Chair of its first Master of Public Administration degree. When he retired from DePaul in 2010, the Greater Chicago Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) renamed its annual outstanding student awards in his honor which is now known as the "Dean F. Eitel Outstanding Student of the Year Award". It is awarded to a student from each of the 8 universities in the Greater Chicago area. He has taught as an adjunct professor at UIC, IIT and Roosevelt Universities. He spent 30 years in the federal government and retired in 1998 as a Senior Director, Great Lakes Regional Office, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He also worked in the private sector for a number of years. Dr. Eitel was appointed by the Illinois Governor in 1999 to the Illinois Strategic Planning Advisory Council to help implement strategic planning in state agencies and served 3 years as its Associate Chair. In 2012 he was appointed to the Illinois Governor's "Government Services Results" Team to help implement the Governor's Budgeting for Results initiative. He is active in several professional organizations and now assists county residents in career planning.