

Liz Brooks-Zak, Center for Economic Progress

Liz Brooks-Zak is a Senior Program Coordinator at the Center for Economic Progress, a nonprofit that provides free tax preparation and financial coaching to working families. Liz holds a Master's of Science degree in Engineering with a specialization in Materials Engineering from the California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo. She worked as an engineer at Cypress Semiconductor before transitioning to the nonprofit sector. Liz is passionate about moving economic equality forward through education.

